

FRIENDLINESS OF GREAT NATIONS IS SPIRIT OF JAPANESE BANQUET

Last Event in Emperor's Birthday Celebration Is Picturesque and Expressive

The sun-flag of Japan mingling with the Stars and Stripes; the blending of toasts to the emperor of Nippon and the President of the United States; the playing band music with the Nipponese national anthem following the "Star-Spangled Banner" such surroundings and ceremonies as these formed a strong guarantee of race comity at the dinner given last Saturday night by the Japanese Merchants' Association at Honolulu to 200 invited guests of all nationalities.

The dinner and reception took place at the Mechi Club. Preparations for the event were made with elaborate care and the result was picturesque in the extreme. The large grounds of the club at Waikiki were lighted by gay lanterns and many-hued electric bulbs strung over buildings and in among the trees. The club-house and tea-house surrounding it glowed with exotic colors. A large pavilion had been erected in the open, faced by a long tea-house open on one side. Under the canopy were laid long tables and a supper was served at 8 o'clock that appealed to the appetites of the guests at once. Covers were laid for even more than attended and the hospitality of the Japanese merchants was overflowing. Behind a canvas screen the Hawaiian Band played for a large part of the evening and during the later hours quaint Japanese dances were given by a number of children of Nippon in the open tea-house. The music of Occident and Orient gave a bizarre and yet a pleasing effect.

The spirit of informality pervaded the gathering and the program was short and extremely informal. Consul General Etaki led the way to the tables at 8 o'clock, but no attempt was made to carry out a series of long speeches. Consul Etaki offered the toast to the President of the United States. After a short speech of welcome to the guests by President D. Yonekura of the association, Consul Etaki called on various gentlemen present and each responded with a short, expressive speech.

President Yonekura spoke briefly on the spirit of the occasion, dwelling on the fact that the completion of the Panama canal guarantees closer relations for the two great nations of Japan and the United States. Former Governor George R. Carter, president of the Chamber of Commerce; the Hon. Chen Ching Ho, consul for China; W. O. Smith, C. A. Cottrill, collector of internal revenue, and Dr. Katsumura gave short talks, and George G. Guild, acting president of the Merchants' Association, called for three cheers for the Japanese Merchants' Association, which were given with a will.

The exhibition of Japanese dancing that closed the evening's program was wonderfully pretty. The dancers were little Japanese girls from six to 10 years of age, and they were dressed gorgeously in the glittering costumes of Japan stage-dance. Two plays were given, the little girls representing various roles. The dancing was extremely graceful and dainty and the symbolism of the plays such that even those who could not understand the language could follow the plot.

During the evening each guest was presented with a bouquet of great yellow chrysanthemums. Dr. Katsumura, declaring that a flower has succeeded in crossing the golden poppy of California with the national flower of Japan and that the result is a perfect flower that has been named "The Rose of Peace."

Liable to Get a Cramp.
He—I'll stand right here on this spot till you say you love me.

She—Then you'll be giving a good imitation of St. Simeon Stylites.—Boston Evening Transcript.

MAUI PLANNING FOR CONVENTION OF NEXT YEAR

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 1.—An interesting quarterly meeting of the Maui Chamber of Commerce was held in the room of the board of supervisors last Thursday afternoon. The president, Frank F. Baldwin, was in the chair.

At the meeting of the trustees held just before the meeting of the members, W. F. Crockett was elected to membership of the chamber.

The president called upon Supervisor Henning to report upon what had been done in the matter of the Haleakala rest house. He said that in the absence of Senator Baldwin at the coast, nothing has been settled, but the work would be pushed as fast as possible now that Mr. Baldwin had returned. The most interesting part of the meeting was when the matter came up of the entertainment of the civic bodies of the Maui meeting next year. Messrs. Wadsworth, von Tempky, Pogue, Judge Kingsbury, Senator Penhallow and others discussed the matter quite at length. The question of having it come at the time of the Fourth of July celebration or the harvest home festivities at Punahoa or at some other time of the year was carefully considered. The whole question of time, program, ways and means, etc., finally was left to a committee of seven men, one of whom should be the president of the chamber—the committee to be permanent until after the convention. The plans will be worked up during the next few weeks and then submitted at the January meet, or at a special meeting if necessary. The president is to name this committee at some later date.

James D. Dougherty at the invitation of the chamber, was asked to speak. He detailed at length the elaborate plans for the Mid-Pacific Carnival in Honolulu. Every member of the chamber was much interested in what he, as chairman of the Carnival week committee, had to say. He called upon Maui to take part in the princess parade and also send as many decorated floats and automobiles down as possible.

James L. McLean of the Inter-Island company, who is chairman of the Carnival finance committee, spoke most enthusiastically concerning the coming event, saying that it would be easily the biggest thing ever undertaken in the islands.

BISHOP STREET ON THE TAPIS FOR TOMORROW

The proposed extension of Bishop street, with all its promised complications, will be a subject before the board of supervisors at its meeting tomorrow evening. Chairman Petrie of the roads committee will introduce the resolution calling for the opening of the street.

One of the important matters which may be discussed in this connection is the deed by which Alexander Young and the Bishop estate gave the property now occupied by Bishop street between Hotel and King to the territory with the condition that neither the Bishop nor the Young property should at any time be obliged to pay an assessment for the widening, improving or extension of Bishop street.

It is argued now that if this condition is held valid as between the county, as the assignee of the territory, and the grantors, it will be necessary for the county to pay the amount of the assessment which would fall on the Young and Bishop property by the opening of the street had the condition not existed.

This fact may have a strong bearing on the decision of the supervisors in carrying out the plan for extension.

HIS FRIEND HAD BRIGHT'S DISEASE

A. B. Edwards, an engineer of Hamlet, N. C., wrote a couple of years ago giving the name of a friend who had Bright's disease but no means. Said his own wife was recovering and asked if we would donate the treatment for this unfortunate. We sent $10.00 worth with our compliments. We had forgotten the matter till the following was received:

"Hamlet, N. C., Feb. 16th, 1913.

"John J. Fulton Co.
"Dear Sirs:—I have been waiting to see how the patients were going to hold out after they had stopped using the Compound. As I think two years long enough, am delighted to tell you that the cases of Bright's that took it recovered. My wife, pronounced hopeless two years ago, is well. Mrs. Spencer, who was not expected to live, recovered and the case I requested the ten bottles for yielded and the patient is well. He was given up to die. I will tell people of it as long as I live. Yours truly,
"A. B. EDWARDS."

If you have Bright's disease do you not owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up?
Ask for pamphlet or write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco—advertisers.

When a singer in Italian opera soars upon the final high note, is not the ensuing applause a sort of contagion of hysteria?

Copyright, Hart Schaffner & Marx

Getting ready for Thanksgiving is one of the pleasant things now just at hand. You may confidently come here for everything that refers to the correct clothes; and that's really a very important part of the preparations.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

clothes are the best made; they grace any occasion where they appear; perfect style and tailoring, correct fit.

Women are wearing our Hart Schaffner & Marx overcoats. We've got the right styles for men and women; many new fabrics, many new models.

Grays, browns, tans, blues, and many mixtures of color, in many new and effective weaves and patterns

Overcoats $22.50 and up
Suits $25 and up

SILVA'S TOGGERY, Ltd.

Elks' Building

"The Store for Good Clothes"

King St.

HILLO NOTES

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

HILLO, Nov. 1.—Supervisor John A. Kealoha was released from jail today, having been confined since last Wednesday in default of $2000 bond. C. T. Shipman and D. Cook furnished the bond.

George Allen was arrested this morning as the result of a bench warrant issued by Judge Matthewsman on a charge of having issued a bogus check to Chock 'In, a storekeeper at Waimalea.

Marston Campbell yesterday was called as a witness before the grand jury and denied that he had ever granted permission to Norman Lyman for the use of county machinery.

JAPANESE OF MAUI CELEBRATE FRIDAY

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 1.—Yesterday was a big day on Maui for the Japanese. Both the Wailuku schools celebrated with elaborate and interesting exercises. The exercises at the baseball park in the afternoon were of a very high order. The independent school gave a moving picture show in the Maui theater. Every seat was taken, and the exhibition was a very good one. Similar affairs were held in other parts of the island.

The lantern parades in different parts of Maui the night before were very effective. A large number of people turned out. Market street in Wailuku was impassable for a short time, the crowd was so dense.

Protests But Pays.
Griggs—I am surprised that you put up with your wife's extravagance.
Briggs—I don't. I merely put up for it.—Boston Evening Transcript.

PERU'S RUINS ARE TREASURES, SAYS YALE PROFESSOR

[By Latest Mail]

LIMA, Peru.—Explorers of Peru's hidden past will find Machu Picchu one of the most remarkable treasures of antiquity. This stone-built city, which is now in ruins, was perhaps the chief stronghold of the Incas. It was while looking for Vitcos, the last capital of the Incas, that Prof. Hiram Bingham of Yale university, in the United States, discovered the wonderful relics.

Far in the interior of Peru, perched on impregnable cliffs above the canyon of the Urubamba river, Machu Picchu looks down on a country that for centuries has been one mass of jungle and uninhabited. Prof. Bingham's return visit to Peru resulted in disclosing what remains of the palaces and temples of that great city of Machu Picchu.

AGED SUITCASE THIEF CAUGHT FOR 38TH TIME

[By Latest Mail]

NEW YORK.—Charles Zimmerman, 70 years old, bent and feeble, an inmate of the Galilee Mission, Darien and Vine streets, and known as "King of the Suit Case Snatchers" for 50 years, was arrested last night for the thirty-eighth time as he stepped out of the Reading Terminal Station with a stolen suitcase in his hand. The owner of the valise was O. C. Kezleman, secretary of the Warsaw Elevator Company, 929 Chestnut street.

Mr. Kezleman left his valise, containing papers and contracts valued at $5000, outside a telephone booth. When he came out his traveling bag was gone. He notified Policeman White and he caught Zimmerman.

In 1865, when the civil war was brought to a close, Zimmerman was the first man to be arrested in this

DESIGNS FOR NEW NICKEL HALF-PENNY IN FRANCE SHOWN

[By Latest Mail]

PARIS, France.—An exhibition of designs for the new nickel halfpenny was opened at the Sorbonne recently. About 60 different designs were on view and from these the best 10 will be chosen by a specially appointed jury and finally the most suitable design will be selected from these 10.

Among the different designs exhibited, M. Rasmussen sent one consisting of a bust in profile of La Republique, and on the reverse, surrounding the hole in the middle of the coin, a double branch of oak leaves.

Other designs include some with aeroplanes, many with oak and laurel leaves, one with a chandelier. Some have evidently found the central hole a difficulty, while others have brought it successfully into the design.

CARNEGIE GLEEFUL AS HE HOOKS BIG SALMON

Aged Millionaire Lands Biggest Catch of Season in Hills of Scotland

[By Latest Mail]

EDINBURGH.—Andrew Carnegie, despite his 77 years, is still a keen salmon fisherman. He was the proudest man in all Scotland today after succeeding in landing the finest fish caught in the River Ship in Sutherland this season. It weighed 30 pounds.

city for stealing a suit case. Since then he has stolen hundreds of suit cases throughout the country, although caught 3 times. The last was a year ago last week. He was sentenced to one year in prison and was released last week. He was held under $1000 bail for court.

GEIGER SHOWS BOYS HOW TO USE AERO-BOAT

Lieut. Harold Geiger's private demonstration of his hydro-aeroplane to Y. M. C. A. boys who went down Pearl Harbor Saturday in the Loch Waterwitch, was the big feature of the day, from the boys' point of view. Almost as interesting, and equally just as instructive, was the mortar practice at Fort Kamehameha, that Major Cole allowed the boys to see. After the boys saw the drill in which the mortars were loaded with dummy projectiles and fired, Lieutenants Zorn and Jenkins took the boys on a through trip of inspection of the fort, explaining in detail the ways and wherefores of one of Uncle Sam's big forts. From Fort Kamehameha the launch took the boys to the dry dock, where they were just in time to see the deep-sea diver get into his helmet and go down to his work 40 feet below the surface. The afternoon was spent on Ford's island. The swimming races in Mr. A. C. Brown's big fresh water tank were exciting from start to finish and made a fine ending to a day just full of fun and instruction. The trip was in charge of Charles F. Loomis, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department, who promises the boys more trips just as good in the near future.

If the many moments of assurance caused by attempting to separate leaves of a book were all put into one moment it might tempt a pain a sto destiny, these for reflection, tribulation of the

WALL & DOUGHERTY

PICTURE FRAMES of Sterling Silver

An especial selection of new-shapes from the dainty frame to grace the dressing table to larger and more elaborate ones for mantel and library table.

A most acceptable gift suggestion and an ideal prize for the card party.

Hanan Shoes

Look better, wear better and are more comfortable than any shoe sold in Honolulu.

A New Line

Tan and Black Oxfords and Lace, also Patent Leather for Evening Wear.

McInerney Shoe Store
Fort above King